Do you think some of the current labels may have "structure" instead of "building"? I know we hoped the RMD would clarify this vagueness, but I think current labels may contain language that could be interpreted loosely to allow for an application to a fence.

Good Afternoon,

We have received an inquiry on how we define "structure" or whether a fence is included in "structure" for purposes of baiting? Do you all know if this is defined anywhere?

Hi Rusty.

Here's the incoming inquiry. Thanks for running this by the team. Let me know what y'all come up with.

How does the EPA define the use of the word "structure" as far as areas of baiting? Could a fence be considered a structure? When considering perimeter baiting, a PMP might consider baiting along a fence and interpret that as a structure.

Thx
